STUDENT BODY PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

The Northerner, condensing the year 1965-66 with memories in pictures and in prose, will always be a reminder of our years at Northern. The breakthrough in 1965-66 saw the enrollment surpass a thousand students, the faculty increase proportionately, the legislators appropriate funds to construct two new buildings, and 1965-66 saw a steady climb in academic stature.

Northern Montana College is meeting that challenge by raising standards of academic excellence--making this college one of the strong leaders in freedom in today's world of turmoil which so badly needs such institutions.

I am proud to be a part of Northern Montana College's steady growth toward greatness and am looking forward to Northern's continuation in this progress.

Queen

Candidates

1966 Homecoming Queen

Miss Sandy Von Eschen, a sophomore from Havre, was chosen to reign as NMC's Homecoming Queen during the annual festivities this past fall. Majoring in English, Miss Von Eschen also represented Northern on Montana's float in the Rose Bowl Parade.

Sandy Von Eschen reigned over NMC's Seventh Annual Homecoming. The biggest event of the year was kicked off by the traditional snake dance through the dorms and the bonfire rally. The Frosh proved their strength by defeating the Upperclassmen in a hard-fought tug-of-war.

Friday evening the Cowan family presented to Northern a plaque in memory of the late Senator Cowan, an early Northern booster. The students then enjoyed the music and humor of the Four Freshmen who gave a two-hour concert. During their intermission, the Queen Coronation took place.

Bright and early Saturday morning the largest parade NMC has ever presented moved through the streets of Havre. The Industrial Art's Club's float captured first prize, followed by the floats of Tau Kappa and the Freshmen. Football fans saw the Lites dazzle the Rocky Mountain Bears 7-6. The day was finalized with a delicious bar-b-que and a formal dance.

Lila Beerman and Bill Dunlap, Joyce Gillies and Dave McLaughlin, are among the many couples enjoying the formal dance which signaled the closing of Homecoming 1965.

The six Queen Candidates anxiously await Mike's important announcement

The Four Freshmen add to the spirit of Homecoming

Northern Montana College students board the "Goose" to ride triumphantly through Havre after their Homecoming game victory.

The Industrial Arts Club's Homecoming float, "No Room for Rocky", which won first prize, proudly parades the streets of Havre.

The Freshman float, "Lites Over Rocky", won third prize in the float-building competition.

The Queen's float, built by the Sophomore class captured second prize. Here Queen Sandy and her court ride through downtown Havre.

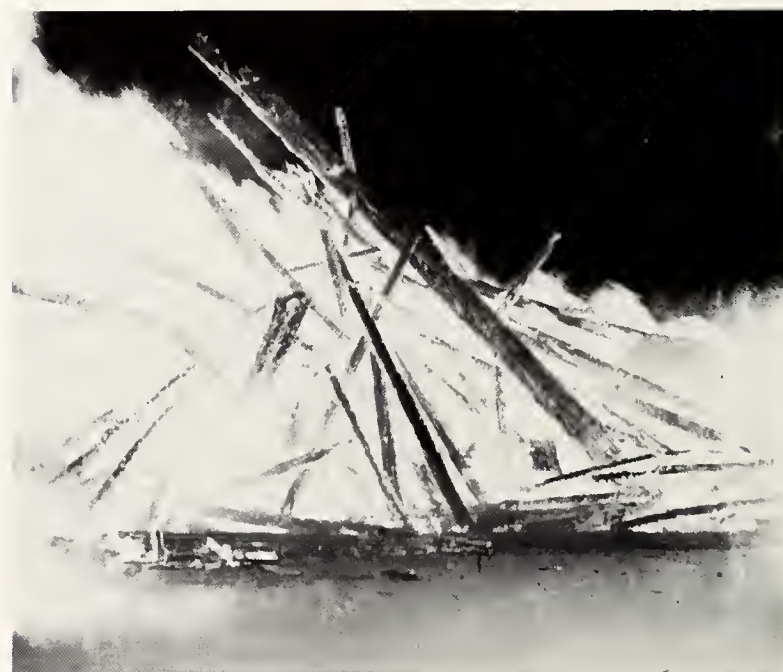

"Helpful" suggestions are offered by Fred Van Sand to other freshmen as they build the largest Homecoming bonfire in NMC's history.

The NMC cheerleaders display their cheering ability as they lead the crowd in cheers at the bonfire and rally.

The bonfire, prematurely set afire before the rally, blazes fiercely.

Steve Manaras looks smug as the freshmen display their strength by winning the tug-of-war at the Homecoming rally.

Talent Show

So THAT's where you've been hiding out Mark!

All decked out in their "best," Northernites enjoy

Winter Quarter's gala social event, Winter Festival, was held February 3, 4, and 5. Chosen as Queen and King to preside over the festivities were Jackie Warwick, Tau Kappa's queen candidate, and Len Harrington, Morgan Hall's king candidate. The couple was crowned during intermission of the formal dance, the theme of which was "Taking a Chance on Love."

Much ability on the part of NMC students was displayed Thursday night at the annual talent show. An overflowing audience enjoyed a variety of acts hosted by the versatile Northern Sons. The acts ranged from a comedy routine to a classical ballet.

Saturday morning brought the more ambitious students to Northern's campus in search of hidden money. Work on artistic snow sculptures as well as ice skating and sledding lighted the afternoon activities. The winning sculpture, constructed by several off-campus students, was a realistic Pink Panther.

Students and faculty members alike participated in the fun and games of the carnival and sock hop Saturday night. One of the most hilarious booths was that of the Freshman class--a frustration-releasing-pie-throwing contest. Fred Van Sand and his group provided music for the sock hop, the ending event of the 1966 Winter Festival.

Charley Clikeman, Gary Funk, Bob Casad, and Bruce Rampleberg are (untypically) up a tree.

The Northern Sons, popular campus quartet, have been entertaining at college and community functions for four years. With the graduation of three of its members; Charley Clikeman, Bruce Rampleberg, and Bob Casad, the group will not be around to liven up the campus.

Concert warm-up.

Bob Casad's VW could carry everything but the bass fiddle.

NMC's pep band provided music during the Homecoming parade on October 31. Although small in number, the band was a great asset to the festivities.

The 1966 Northern Band

Under the directorship of Mr. John Varnum, the band this year presented several excellent concerts which demonstrated the musicians' ability and hard work. Band members also provided entertainment at football and basketball games. According to all reports the Spring Tour proved to be highly successful. At the end of Spring Quarter the band combined with the rest of the music department and the drama department to produce the delightful musical, "Brigadoon."

Mike Conn Against The Eastern Yellowjackets

In Freshman action, forward Roger Eggen goes up for a shot after receiving the ball from Ron Grovom.

Larry Martinson fires for two as Bink Sheron and Mike Wojtowick move in to cover a possible rebound.

A Carroll guard bows down to Northern.

Northern's Senior center, Arnold Frank, uses his 6'8" height to fire high above Minot State Teachers College.

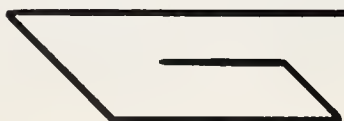

Northern fans go wild after the Lights knock off Eastern who had been undefeated in conference play until that time.

Mike Wojtowick displays tremendous effort in his attempt to steal a rebound from a Carroll forward.
